The arrangement between the Band Boosters and the GCW whereby the Boosters get a certain percent of the money obtained from collections of slightly overdue subscriptions and from securing new subscribers, should prove successful, as the ladies want money for the band and the GCW wants to clean its list and to secure new subscribers. The third parties to this arrangement, the subscribers, too, will get their money's worth. A trade which helps all parties concerned is a good trade. These ladies are authorized to secure new subscribers and to collect the subscription statements furnished by us. If, through error, we have billed a subscriber who has already paid, that matter can be adjusted for "we aint gone nowhere."

Well, it looks like we are going to have to move off and leave the chinches and roaches, as The Chinch Den was sold to Fred Griffin, and we have bargained to buy the Sherman old building up Beale Street. We are superstitious about moving off Green Street for, to our knowledge, nobody ever went busted on Green Street. We will have a much larger place and it will eventually belong to us if we are lucky.

We hope you will like our new series of articles, "What's Going On In Grenada", and solicit the cooperation of the managers and owners of Grenada's industries and institutions.

Robert E. Lee's laurels will never, wilt in the Southland. The name of Stephen D. Lee also is imperishible in our southern annals. But the Lee that out-lees all lees is Lee Spain who recently became a new subscriber.

We are going to miss the cunning little chinches and the big boar roaches who made their home here with us in "The Den", but "Time Marches On."

And speaking of Carroll county, Runt Mohead and wife of Little Texas honored our emporium with a call Monday. Runt is going to become detoothed or dentated, anyway he is going to have his toofies yanked out, poor fellow. Never will I let a dentist pull another of my teeth!!

It must be a grand life, being a preacher. Wonder if I am too old to start preaching. I know I am not too good.

As the war tension increases it is going to pay our foreign born element to speak softly and tread lightly. If war comes, or when it comes, ever a softer pedal had better be put on. Grenada is not going to put up with any form of sabotage or with any form of disloyalty of deed or word.

If our navy is not already in the war, we venture the guess it will be in by June 15th. As for the army, it is so ill equipped, and ship bottoms are so scarce, it is unlikely to participate any time soon.

The old lady and I celebrated our 23rd anniversary last Friday. That shows she's a noble, patient woman.

We were married while I was in the army at Camp Beauregard, and I took her "home" with me, where she stayed until we left for the embarkatation point in New York.

I would not swap her for one 23 years younger.

Business people already feel the effects of the fire at Belgrade which, Grenada hopes, will reopen as quickly as possible. Picture Grenada WITHOUT its many industries, and you will see another Coffeeville!! This is not saying Coffeeville is not a fine place, just saying that it is almost entirely dependent upon agriculture for its economy.

These hyphenated Americans had better begin speaking quietly and treading with sneakers on their feet, for, with rapidly advancing was tension, they will be dealt with at the first sign of disloyalty.

Jimmie Arrington's best phrase "people had better look more to God and less to Washington."

A friend suggested that we add a line under the stork column, "Thus Grenada Grows." Speaking of the stork he had a good rest last week. Unmistakable visual signs indicate, however, that heavy duties lie before him.

Thus the GCW Grows.

Resolution Adopted By American Legion Post 35

Whereas, the existing national emergency has made evident the lack of trained workmen to prosecute to the fullest extent the mechanical preparations for National Defense, and

Whereas The Government of these United States has, in years past provided a support for such training in the public schools, through Vocational Instruction which is sponsored and supported largely at the expense of the Federal Government, and

Whereas, Grenada with its ample school facilities for literary achievements has not connected with the benefits of Vocational Training on the large scale provided under the Federal Vocational Aid plan, and

Whereas, Such Vocational Training would not only aid the National Defense; but would become of lasting benefit to the individuals as the makers of better homes, and better economic conditions in the nation during any period of World peace.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by Post No. 35 of the American Legion, in the City of Grenada, that the Board of Trustees of the City Schools be petitioned to recommend and use their efforts and influence to secure the fullest measure of Vocational Training for students desiring it, in the Grenada City Schools.

Be it further resolved that a copy of the resolutions be spread on the Minute Book of the Post No. 35 of the American Legion and that copies be furnished to the Supt. of the City Schools, the Secretary of the School Board, Clerk of the City Council, Superintendent of Education and all representative of the Press within the City of Grenada, Miss.

J. M. TALBERT,
Commander No. 35.
J. L. ODOM,
Chairman of Resolutions.

Adopted by Post No. 35 of the American Legion, Grenada, Miss. this 9th day of May, 1941.

REPLY TO ABOVE

The Grenada School authorities are thoroughly in accord with the spirit which prompted the above petition and would like to make the following statement regarding the requirements of the National Defense Program, and what has been done by local authorities relative to the local community having a share in this work:

1. This aid is available only for out of school people.

2. And is given only to those schools which have a separate shop building owned by the school.

3. In January a survey was made by our Vocational Department relative to the possibility of organizing a night class an only thre interested persons were eligible for the work.

4. Mr. Mauldin, State Director of this work, informed our Co-ordinator, Mr. Stubbs, that no school not owning a shop building need apply for this work. Grenada High School is ready always and anxious to cooperate and respond for far as the School Budget and existing equipment will permit in every local and national program.

JOHN RUNDLE.

Anderson Appointed Chairman

Mr. B. J. Anderson has been appointed by President George McLean of the Northeast Mississippi Council as the Chairman of the Committee to select a competent secretary-manager of this organization. This appointment made at a meeting of Grenada county members of this council, Mr. McLean and Herbert B. Allen, Secretary of the Grenada County Chamber of Commerce at the Barwin Hotel on Tuesday of this week.

Morgan & Lindsey Makes Many Changes

Morgan & Lindsey, one of Grenada's popular department stores, has recently completed modernization of their store which cost approximately $3,000.00. New fluorescent lighting fixtures have been installed overhead. New arrangement of display counters which will permit better display of more articles have been made, and a modern candy case has been installed. Mr. C. W. White, manager of the store, states that he is preparing to add about 1,000 new items to his stock. The owners of this business hope to make the Grenada store a model for their dozen or more stores in North Mississippi.

The tingle of the cash register bell was occasioned by the ringing up of $1.50 from Mrs. C. H. Wood, of Webster county. However some of the above was strictly methaphor, as we have no bell nor any cash register, just pants pockets.

One Killed, One Seriously Injured Satuaday Night

Mr. Cecil Voles, of Calhoun City, is dead and his truck companion, Mr. Herman Rock also of Calhoun City, is seriously injured at Grenada Hospital as a result of a truck accident east of Graysport which occurred Saturday night when these two men were en ronte to their home from their place of employment, the Phillips saw mill near Graysport.

It seems that Mr. Voles was riding on the bed of the truck when the truck left the road. A barrel of oil rolling forward when the forward motion of the truck ceased imprisoned Voles between itself and the cab and crushed him to death.

Eighteen Left When Joe Talbert Sat Down

Joe Talbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Talbert, of Grenada, was the 20th speller of the 45 participants to fall before the barrage of words shot toward them by "teacher" at the Four-State Spelling Bee, sponsored by the Presss-Scimiter, at Tech High School in Memphis last Friday. The shot that got Joe was "pertinent."

Acompanying Joe to this large spelling bee were his parents and his sister, Ruth, and Mrs. H. H. Cullen. In all 45 spelleds and 155 parents and friends attended the bee.

The Press-Scimiter entertained them royally. In the afternoon, a theatre party was given. Preceding the spelling bee, a band concert and a banquet were enjoyed at Tech High.

It is of much interest to Grenada county people that the winner of this contest, Rebecca Searey, of Boliver county, was the 15-year-old great granddaughter of "Uncle" Greek Cunningham, of Oxberry.

"Saving Human Misery" was the purpose of the meeting.

Florence Nightengale Day Celebrated At Hospttal

Monday, May 12, the birthday of Florence Nightengale who crusaded for better hospitals nearly a century ago, was celebrated at Grenada Hospital most fittingly.

Numerous baskets and bouquets of beautiful flowers bedecked the halls, reception room and office of the hospital, while many friends of this splendid institution came in person to wish the hospital and its attaches well. Mrs. J. C. Morgan, Matron of the hospital, and the nurses, as well as the doctors who were in and out, made the visitors welcome and took pleasure in showing them about the hospital. Punch was served all visitors.

Many persons took advantage of the opportunity to see for themselves what a restful, friendly place Grenada Hospital is and how smoothly and efficiently it is run. They met face to face the men and women who are devoting their lives to those who are sick. They left the hospital with a new feeling a warm feeling of pride and confidence in Grenada Hospital.

The Grenada Churches

By HERBERT B. ALLEN

PRESBYTERIAN MOTHER'S DAY

In a brilliant, sunny atmosphere, redolent with the fragrance of flowers, and to the accompaniment of spirited singing by feathered friends in neighboring trees, the Reverend C. A. Pharr gave an inspiring Mothers' Day sermon to a large and appreciated congregation in the Presbyterian Church.

Free from any trace of false sentimentality, Mr. Pharr spoke on the sacred subject of Motherhood, its sublime mission, supberb dignity and loving self-sacrifice.

The human qualities of motherhood's loving and sympathetic attitude toward mankind could not be expected to compare with the infinite love of God as a Father. And our refusal to come to God as a Father, and to follow His laws, has resulted in our messing up the whole organism of society.

In emergency one called upon a physician in whom one had confidence, based upon past experience; and so many, in time of stress do not call upon the Great Physician because He is a stranger with whom they have no contact over long periods of time.

Mr. Pharr graphically drew the parallel between the mother waiting at night, by the lighted lamp, for the return of an absent child; and the eternal light shining in the window of God's House, "And God never sleeps!"

The arrangement of the flowers, white gladioli in front of the pulpit, with two gorgeous vases of large red roses on either side, was beautifully appropriate to the occasion; as was also the taste in which the organist, Mrs. C. H. Calhoun, softly played the world favorite strains of Mother Machree as the congregation departed in reminiscent mood.

Fuller Company Employed To Make Survey

The W. A. Fuller Company, electrical engineers of St. Louis, has been employed by the city council to make a survey of the power situation in this city. This firm will undertake to give the council much pertinent information including the cost of a new generating plant, the cost of a new distribution system, the names of consumers who will patronize the city plant if its rates are as low or lower than the rates of the power company and will furnish the city a suggested schedule of rates.

It is understod that the company will begin the survey in the immediate future. The cost to the city will be $500.00.

P. S. We hope Red Briscoe is satisfied for the present.

Arrington, The Featured Speaker at Baptist Supper

Last Thursday evening, the Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church, dining in high spirited and friendly brotherhood, listened to a fellow Mississippian whose heart and mind are close to his brethren of the Magnolia State, Jimmie Arrington, the multitudinous personality who is mayor, editor, major domo, lawyer, et cetra in Collins of the Piney Woods country, was in our midst with a vengence.

Shrewd observers and whimsical commentator, with a strong penchant for broad humor, Mr. Arrington has a personal philosophy of life with which he naively inoculates his listeners under the sly cloak of confusion de luxe. He scores suavely and painlessly before his victims realize that they neglected to lock the rear entrance to their thoughts and opinins.

Prior to leaving Collins, for Grenada, His Honor tried a traffic case in his municipal office, relieved the culprit of light court costs, but compensated him with sage advice on the subject of reckless driving.

While the subject was still fresh in his mind, he doffed the judicial robes for the semi-intelligent expression of an editor, dashed off an editorial denouncing the tendency to recklessness in handling automotive vehicles—then rushed out, leaped into his chariot and turned up the road to reach Grenada in three and one half hours.

Going south on 51 the next morning he demonstrated to your reporter how to overtake Illinois Central trains with ease and certainty. We arrived in Jackson intact, and the last we saw of the guest speaker he was depositing a good Baptist nickel in one of Jackson's new traffic meters.

With that logical inconsistency so dear to the eccentric heart, Mr. Arrington described that intangible thing we call happiness, as an indefinable state of mind and then proceeded blandly to illuminate the path to happiness. This was done with a punch which lifted his hearers over the barrier of indifference to the lessons of the Bible, much in the irresistable manner in which a local houn' dawg of Collins assisted his master over a fence one night in Covington County, under somewhat unconventional but dramatic circumstances.

Packard advertises, "Ask the man who owns one," and we shall paraphrase this to read, "Ask the man who was at the banquet," if you just must know how the houn'dawg exercised his electric powers of propulsion on his master.

In a courtroom surcharged with suspense, the defendant, Mr. Arrington, was arraigned by modest Marshall Perry on a charge of riotous lecturing, the evidence was summed up by urbane Andrew Carothers, and J. B. Perry, Sr., vainly called on character witnesses John Rundle, Rev. T. B. Thrower and O. R. Lilly.

A Grand Jury of 125 Grenadians found Jimmie guilty of incorrigible good humor and sound philosophy, but recommended judicial clemency, remanding him in custody of the Barwin Hotel, where he shared my cell until midnight and invited him to trespass in Grenada at an early date—with costs!

Fred Griffin Installs Weaver Safety Service

Our good neighbor, Fred Griffin, the Buick and Pontiac dealer, has installed the famous Weaver Safety Service, which includes a device which gives absolutely accurate data on the condition of your car brakes, and another Weaver product, the Rayoscope, which detects any imperfections in your lighting system. Your safety while driving depends upon many things of course, but certainly good lights and good brakes are most important. Any imperfections or misalignments detected by these machines can readily be remedied by Mr. Griffin's expert service men.

29 MILLION!

A record never before approached!

★When the 29,000,000th Ford rolled recently from the assembly line, an all-time record for the industry was set. 29,000,000 units built by the same management and all bearing one name—a name that has become one of the best-known trade-marks in the world!

It is significant that this achievement comes at a time when our country is making a mighty effort to re-arm swiftly. For to further that effort, to help speed it along in any possible way, we have offered the vast facilities of the Rouge Plant and every ounce of our experience.

As you read this, a new $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant, started only last fall, is nearly completed. A new magnesium alloy plant, one of the few in the country, is already in production on lightweight airplane engine castings. Work is right now under way on a new, $18,000,000 plant for mass production of big bomber assemblies. Orders have been filled for military vehicles of several types, including army reconnaissance cars, staff cars and bomb service trucks.

In the midst of this activity for National Defense, building the 29 millionth Ford car is simply one part of the day's work.

The public has acclaimed the 1941 Ford car as the finest in Ford history. Ford Dealers are enjoying their greatest sales and expecting their best year since 1937.

It is good to be producing the things America needs, and to be setting records on the way!

What's Going On In Grenada

This is the first of a series of articles dealing with the industries and institutions of Grenada which make for Grenada's progress and prosperity. These articles, too, will answer the pessimist who says, "We aint got nothing in Grenada."

Grenada Plywood Box Company

Grenada Plywood Box Company takes otherwise valueless timber, much of which is produced in Mississippi, employs Grenada labor upon this raw material and ships the semi-finished products beyond the state. It furnishes a market for timberowners having low grade timber, and gives employment to otherwise idle men.

This industry, which is located on the main line of the I. C. system on the southern edge of Grenada was established in 1936 and today is employing four times the number of men that it employed five years ago.

The vital statistics in the matter follow. In 1936 28 men were employed and the annual total labor payroll was about $17,000.00; today 120 men are employed and the annual payroll for labor based on today's figures is $75,000.00. The company is working feverishly forward the completion of another dry kiln by June 1st which will raise the number of employees to about 200 and the annual payroll for labor to approximately $120,000.00. While on statistics, it should be stated that during the past month 45 cars containing lumber material were received at the plant and 45 cars containing finished products were shipped out. This helped increase the already large freight receipts at the local station to about $100,000.00.

Freight cars laden with timber taken from Tillatoba, Guin, Sycamore and Sweet Gum arrive at the plant daily. This material is unloaded and moved to a machine which, after two or more similar steel slabs are placed atop each other and with the grain of each running at right angles with the grain of the piece above and below, glues these pieces together under heavy pressure. A trip through the dry kilns makes of this assembled slab a board very much stronger and more flexible than a solid board of equal thickness. After drying, the boards are taken either to a saw which reduced them to perfect rectangular shapes or into perfect circles. By and large the larger rectangular pieces are used for the sides of barrels; the small rectangular pieces for the hoops of the barrel and the circular pieces for the heads of the barrel. Each of these various units is made for a specific barrel or container, some for large barrels for coffee, some for medium size barrels for powdered milk and smaller kegs for chemicals or other things. These shapes are not assembled into finished products in Grenada but are shipped "knocked down" to various assembly plants near the place where they are used, scattered over the East and North. For example let us see about the Borden Company. In the past it has used 20,000 small barrels as containers for dried milk to be shipped to England. Today they order 240,000 of these small barrels per year. This merely gives an idea of the enormous demand for the products of this Grenada plant. The U. S. Army first ordered 50,000 slacks, the wooden part of which was made in the Grenada plant; another order for 14,000 has been received at the plant.

Barrels and kegs made from the parts produced in this plant are shipped to more than a score of assembling plants in the country. It is generally believed that, ere long, an assembling plant will be established in this state should just a little more demand for finished kegs and barrels develop. To show the urgency of demand for products of this plant, it is stated that the parent company, Allen Cooperage Company, has urged the local plant to increase consumption of veneer from an average of 250,000 M. B. M. (as at present) to a minimum of 625 M. B. M. per month. Such an increase which the local management will earnestly undertake to produce, will bring more cash register bells and ring them louder in this community, for practically all of the money paid out at this plant finds its way into the retail channels of trade.

Since the first plant was established five years ago the floor space has steadily increased until today 40,000 square feet are used and the ceiling is the limit for stacking raw materials and finished products.

Mr. Earl Burkley, the district manager of the Allen Cooperage Company with over a dozen plants in this state and one in Louisiana, has his office here and exercises general supervision over this and other plants. Mr. C. H. Burkley is General Manager of the local plant. Mr. W. B. Hoffa and Mr. Joe Thompson are bookkeeper and cashier respectively of the plant. Mesdames Ethel Bowen and Lamar Chamberlain and Misses Leona Benton and Berna Leggett are office assistants. Mr. R. L. (Bob) Linsey is Miss Foreman.

Grenada Plywood Box Company is an important factor in the growth and prosperity of Grenada, as the above facts demonstrate.

Bicycle Riders Are Street Hazards

Boys riding bicycles on sidewalks are dangerous to pedestrians, especially those whose agility is reduced by age. Boys riding bicycles through red lights are great hazards to their own lives and limbs and are nerve racking to the motorists who have to avoid them.

The simplest solution of this situation is for the bicycle riders to confine their riding to the streets and for them to observe the traffic lights. Otherwise, we may likely to have a tragedy here at any time.

If Mississippi is ever to make progress it first must draft its best men to posts of authority in state and county government. A good lawyer does not necessarily make a good executive; a sorry lawyer is bound to make a sorry executive.

The Grenada County Chamber of Commerce is making substantial progress toward efficient organization. More power to it.

Extend The Service, Close The Gaps

The people of this section will be glad to learn that the Tri State Transit Company—the bus line which gives much efficient service throughout Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and parts of Texas—has by no means abandoned its effort to connect its southern system, identified above, with its line from Jackson, Tennessee to St. Louis, Missouri. An unsuccessful effort to make this connection by obtaining a franchise from Memphis to Jackson, Tennessee by way of Boliver, Tennessee was made.

The franchise now being sought is a shorter route and one which should be of even greater benefit to our people than the Memphis-Jackson franchise. The franchise now being sought is for the local rights from the Mississippi-Tennessee to Jackson, Tennessee by way of Boliver, and the interstate rights from Holly Springs, Mississippi to Jackson, Tennessee. If secured, this route would partially follow a new highway from Holly Springs to the state line, thence over Tennessee highway 18 to Jackson.

Possessing no technical knowledge of the intricacies of I. C. C. methods and rulings, we of necessity revert to commonsense. Commonsense dictates to us that it is nothing but right that a first-class transportation line should be integraed or connected up. This is especially true when by making this connection a large "elbow" represented by the bend to and the bend from Memphis, now necessary for a traveler from say Grenada to St. Louis to make, would be eliminated by the granting of the rights being sought by the Tri State people.

We of his community have learned by experience to rely upon the Tri State for safe, courteous and prompt service, a service which has been extended to take care of growing needs, a service that has relegated the older busses to the feeder lines and has installed modern busses on our main line. The extended line to the north, as contemplated by the franchise being sought, would cause more and better busses to be operated to Holly Springs and the State University at Oxford which service, now is in keeping with the traffic, but which could stand enlargement.

We most earnestly urge that the Tri State System of the "south" be permitted to make physical connection with the Tri State System of the "north", and this can be accomplished by the granting of the rights being sought.

Most Important

It seems particularly inopportune that the Federal Communications Commission should, at this very critical time in the national life, institute a formal rate case against the companies of the Bell System.

The company is engaged in a huge construction program, involving nearly a half billion dollars this year, and this is being done primarily to fit itself to cope for the increased activities due to defense programs and defense measures. We are told that traffic is running about 25 percent above last year. In addition to these factors, many of its experienced men who were reserve officers have been called to the colors, and many of its younger men are being drafted—all of which will probably entail premature promotions and the "breaking in" of new men.

The government does not seem at all averse to tossing about contracts bearing most generous profits to contractors; it does not hesitate to "loosen up" in many quarters. Then why disturb the Bell System at this critical time with an unprecedented peremptory rate case? In the past most of these rate matters have been approached and settled in an informal manner.

It seems to us that this rate matter might be deferred, or at least approached informally, during the time when every nerve should be strained in more important matters.

A Tragic Outlook

Even if we add the multiplied millions of dollars represented by subsidies, parity payments and so on poured into the state by the federal government, the agricultural income of Mississippi has declined 50 millions of dollars in the past five years, or at the rate of $10,000,000 per annum. Mull that statement over in your mind!! Look forward to the time when there will be no more federal "gifts"!! Realize that the loss of our foreign cotton markets is a PERMANENT loss, not a TEMPORARY loss!!

Try to find, if you can, some desirable new land!! Try to find some virgin timber!! Worse still, try to find pine trees from which can be sawn some 2x12s!!

Look at the eroded hillsides, and at the worn-out level lands!! Look at the grown-up fence corners and the filled ditches!! Look at the rumble-down cabins and the dishevled barns!!

Look at the long lines of persons (700,000 in the state) seeking commodity relief!! Look at the great numbers of people on WPA, NYA, PWA and other governmental relief agencies!!

From these people and from this eroded and worn out land, must come an ever-increasing amount of taxes. Mississippians are called upon to make greater and greater tax payments from an ever-decreasing income. This "thing" is going to snap one of these days, unless drastic measures are taken, for, as we have often stated, "You can't beat arithmetic." The arithmetic of the situation is terrible.

Huge Economic Loss Of Seed

Grenada county farmers suffered a huge and unnecessary loss in the fall of 1940 when they failed to save the lespedeza seed from the 4,200 acres of lespedeza which was left for fire to destroy. This loss is conservatively estimated at nearly $170,000, and this figure is arrived at by calculating 10 bushels of $4.00 lespedeza seed per acre for the 4,200 acres.

Ten bushels an acre is a very conservative estimate of yield, while there is no estimate of the $4.00 per bushel. With a combine, which a few farmers use to save lespedeza seed, it is easily possible to save 20 bushels of recleaned seed per acre.

How does the figure, $170,000 which was wasted, compare with the total proceeds of the cotton crop of this county? How does the amount of labor employed in the production of the cotton crop compare with the infinitesimal amount of work necessary to harvest 4,200 acres of lespedeza for seed.

Do your own figuring. Do your own thinking.

We should try to get WGRM back from the swamp.

Me and the GCW.

UNDER THE MAGNOLIA TREE

By Herbert B. Allen

In a recent sermon at the First Methodist Church, Reverend T. B. Thrower quoted the old professor of English at Yale University, William Lyon Phelps, as declaring that, "It is more valuable to possess a thorough knowledge of the English Bible, without an university education, than to possess an university education, without a thorough knowledge of the English Bible." It is a most stimulating thought, and stimulating thoughts are always welcome under the Magnolia Tree.

Coming up from Jackson during the week, we had the pleasure of discussing education with two particularly talented young Mississippians who teach in Jackson and Canton High Schools. Miss Helen Rose, of Grenada, and Miss Minnie Lee Austin, of Canton. There is a natural affinity between teachers and editorial writers: for editorial writers are lifelong students.

Movements of cardinal importance are due for consideration in the educational world, and we are glad to learn that the South will take a leading part in initiating changes directed toward even greater usefulness in fitting the graduates of our schools to meet the changing conditions confronting them upon graduation.

Here in Grenada we have a high school faculty whose superior ability is evidenced by the unusual number of graduates who distinguish themselves in academic competition among High Schools in this state, and who go on to attain signal recognition in our colleges and universities.

Our Superintendent, Professor John Rundle, is noted throughout Mississippi Educational Association circles as one of the most erudite educators in the State—an executive who has established an enviable record in his chosen profession—a record which reflects great credit on Grenada.

Only a most effective scholastic program, animated by a successful effort to keep abreast of the requirements of the times, could possibly have produced the results which have been the reward of Professor Rundle's efforts.

Therefore we have read with particular interest certain interesting articles framed and hanging in his office. As an introduction to a series of comments, to appear from time to time as space permits, or as interest dictates, we take pleasure in reprinting in its entirety an article by a former editor of the Century Magazine, later President of the University of Wisconsin, the late liberal writer and thinker, Glenn Frank, entitled, "A Prayer for Teachers."

Many of these paragraphs are so pregnant with thought provoking wisdom that every earnest person will be grateful to the original writer: and to Professor Rundle, for making the Prayer available to us.

A PRAYER FOR TEACHERS---Glen Frank

O Lord, of Learning and of Learners, we are at best but blunders in this godlike business of teaching. Our short comings shame us, for we are not alone in paying the penalty for them: they have a sorry immortality in the maimed minds of those whom we, in our blunderings, mislead.

We have put conformity to old customs above curiosity about new ideas.

We have thought more about our subject than about our object.

We have been peddlers of petty accuracies, when we should have been priests and prophets of abundant living.

We have schooled our students to be clever competitors in the world as it is, when we should have been helping them become creative co-operators in the making on the world as it is to be.

We have regarded our schools as training camps for an existing society to the exclusion of making them working-models of an evolving society.

We have counted knowledge more precious than wisdom.

We have tried to teach our students what to think instead of how to think.

We have thought it our business to furnish the minds of our students; when we should have been laboring to free their minds.

And we confess that we have fallen into these sins of the schoolroom because it has been the easiest way. It has been easier to tell our students about the motionless past that we can learn once for all than to join with them in trying to understand the moving present that must be studied afresh each morning.

From these sins of sloth may we be freed.

May we realize that it is important to know the past only that we may live wisely in the present. Help us to be more interested in stimulating the builders of modern cathedrals than in retailing to students the glories of ancient temples.

Give us to see that a student's memory should be a tool as well as a treasure-chest.

Help us to say "do" oftener than we say "don't."

Help us to realize that, in the deepest sense, we cannot teach anybody anything: that the best we can do is to help them to learn for themselves.

Save us from the blight of specialism; give us reverence for our materials, that we may master the facts of our particular fields, but help us to see that all facts are dead until they are related to the rest of knowledge and to the rest of life.

May we know how to "relate the coal scuttle to the universe."

Help us to see that education is, after all, but the adventure of trying to make ourselves at home in the modern world.

May we be shepherds of the spirit as well as masters of the mind.

Give us, O Lord of Learners, a sense of the divinity of our undertaking.

In next week's column we shall comment on a very interesting and arresting thought given us by the Reverend C. S. Liles. Grenadians of a philosophical turn of mind are invited to contribute to the Magnolia Tree, gems of thought which may contribute to the enrichment of our community life, and especially those which have a timely application.

Do we educate to generate
A genius, or one
Who has lived his life in happiness
When his full course is run?

And, pursuant to the general subject of education, apparently neither the academic nor the liberal approaches to the laudable objective of producing intelligent gentle folks can guarantee that desirable result. If a mind has but two dimensions, education alone cannot develop that essential third dimension—namely, depth! That is an attribute which the individual must contribute personally.

The amnesia mystery of last Friday is a significant example which comes to mind at the moment. The English language has a very accuartely descriptive word for that sort of thing—stultifying!

And in that pathological vacumn, which hovers on the remotely nebulous borders of the Fourth Estate hereabouts, is another singular instance of the foibles of the quasi-educated.

That great Christian GENTLEMAN, Abraham Lincoln, whose Bible was his staunch friend through life, and whose legal training enabled him conveniently to dispose of petty annoyances, had a famous phrase which summarized his philosophy in the face of distraction, "with charity for all, and with malice toward none."

And those references to the motives of men being insrutable refer only to very clever men. Some necks redden from the refulgent rays of the Southern sun; others may redden from the reaction to psychological inspiration. Sailor beware!

Our Bible is open at the twenty-third chapter of Matthew, and we have focused our particular attention upon the third verse.

Writing and arithmetic
Are great things in their way;
But character's the factor,
That our nation needs today.

FROM A REBEL HILLTOP

By The Grenadier

In the State of Mississippi there are a few communities which are especially favored from an economic viewpoint. Among these we are happy to include Grenada. For this is in no sense a representative Mississippi city. We are fortunate in having a very considerable revenue flowing into Grenada from outside the county, due to the sale of our raw materials and our manufactured products in distant markets.

But we are vitally concerned in what is happening in the state at large. And what IS happening in this state? One of the most serious economic conditions ever to develop in the United States is in the process of making right here in Mississippi today.

If we are anywhere near the mark in our judgment of the contemporary scene, we in Mississippi are approaching a state of affairs which is more serious, and more ominous, than the economic distress of this region in reconstruction days.

In those days, following the close of the War of Southern Independence, Mississippians had catastrophic conditions to overcome. They had little but the iron will, the dire necessity, and the invincible spirit, necessary to surmount great obstacles. But they then had vital assets which we do not possess in Mississippi today. They had the vast forests of southern Mississippi intact. They had the rich and fertile soil of this region in cultivation. They had the vast virgin timber and soil resources of the Delta virtually untouched.

Today, where are the timber resources of this region, of the Delta, and of southern Mississippi? What has happened to the fertile soil of eastern, northern and southern Mississippi? What has happened to the Delta cotton production, which once made that region to the west a veritable gold mine of the gossamer fiber? Let us examine the present scene in this preponderantly agricultural state.

The year 1936 was a depression year in Mississippi, so if the figures for Mississippi agriculture for that year are used as a criterion of present conditions, we shall not be accused of distorting the true picture.

In 1936 the total NET cash income from cotton, other farm crops, cattle and dairying, and federal subsidies, was $197,000,000. And by the year 1940 ths total net cash income had shrunk to $147,000,000. In other words, our NET cash income from farm products has dropped $50,000,000 in the past five years—a terrific loss from even depression levels.

When you consider that the figures for 1936 were the figures for a depression year, and represented but a pitiful existence per family—then you begin to visualize what is happening in the state of Mississippi today. We are going behind at the rate of $10,000,000 per year—and this is literally being taken out of the hide of our people. It represents, among other things, poverty, destitution, disease, malnutrition, and a bare existence for hundreds of thousands.

It represents a falling off in taxable wealth, a decrease in an already pitiful buying power, less money available for clothing, food, shelter, medicine, medical attention, education, religious activities, and all of the useful and desirable commodities and services which should be available to every worthy American today.

In the past five years the Net cash income from cotton has decreased from $150,000,000 to $70,000,000. Other farm crops have decreased in value only $3,000,000. Livestock and dairy products are up nearly $5,000,000 in value. And government payments have increased from $7,000,000 to $23,000,000.

Our Secretary of Agriculture, Claud Wickard, recently told the National Farm Institute, "Unless the South finds some other way to keep up its income, a reduction of cotton production to meet the loss of foreign markets would lower an income already much too low."

Grenada County intends to do something about this very threatening situation. Our answer to the trend is given in our determination to organize, to plan, and to act in cooperation.

In union there is strength. That is our national motto. It is true nationally. It would be true if we could practice it in our state. We cannot control the disunity so glaringly evident on all sides in Mississippi. But it IS within our power to unify our own efforts—and that is exactly what we are now doing.

Our sunshine, soil and manpower,
Shall join under a plan:
To show our sister counties,
That Grenada will and can!

Hess In Britain

No wonder there was consternation in London when the radio announced the arrival of Herr Rudolf Hess, late of Berlin, by way of Messerschmidt plane and parachute. If Mussolini had arrived at the Victoria Embankment in London, in a Venetian gondola, accompanied by a mandolin quartet, the surprise could have been no greater.

Our first impression of the significance of this event is that it is more constructively important to the ultimate aims of the British, than the Balkan reserves were adverse from a miliary standpoint. The Balkan situation was inevitable. But the defection of Hess from the Supreme Council of Nazidom is a thunderbolt to both the British and the German public.

Hess, with his strategic knowledge, could be of infinitely more value to Great Britain at this time than any factor short of the actual participation of the United States in the war.

LANE-MULLIN

The brilliantly solemnized wedding of Miss Cora Mullin, daughter of Mrs. R. W. Mullin and the late Mr. Mullin, of Grenada, to Mr. Hector DeWitt Lane, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Lane of Grenada, occurred Friday evening at 8 o'clock, May 9th, 1941, at the First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. C. A. Pharr, pastor, saying the double ring ceremony in the presence of a large and fashionable gathering of relatives and friends.

The stately beauty of the church formed a setting of dignity for the decorations featuring white and green. Two tall Wicker baskets, in white, filled with white gladioli of rare beauty, flanked the bridal altar. These were but part of the graceful arrangement of Oregon ferns and an unusually attractive pattern of Southern smilax against white drapes. Stately candelabram held aloft white tapers.

The nuptial music, with Mrs. Roger Dollarhide at the organ, and Miss Helen Horton soloist of Belhaven College, was beautifully rendered.

Mrs. Dollarhide wore a lovely formal frock of blue lace and net and chose flame gladioli for her corsage. Miss Horton was beautifully gowned in white silk net, with flame gladioli corsage. Mrs. Dollarhide played first, the strains of Cadman's love song "At Dawning" accompanying Miss Horton: D'Hardelot's "Because" was sung as the second solo.

As the ushers lighted the candles, Mrs. Dollarhide played "Oh Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star," by Wagner. The "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn was played as a processional and the Bridal Chorus from Lorengrin as the recessional Traumerai by Schumann, was softly played during the ceremony.

Ushers were Messrs. Raphael Semmes, Jr., Virgil Barnes, Donald Lockett, Ernest Penn, Lawrence Allison and Bobby Sharp. The groom and his attendants wore white. The ushers chose a flame gladioli boutannaire while the groom wore a lovely Stepanotis from the bride's flowers and the minister and best man (Mr. H. D. Lane, Sr.) chose gardenias.

The bride's attendants were exquisitely attired in white silk lace and net dresses of identical make. She was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Pat Mullin as matron of honor; Miss Jackie Lane, sister of the groom, as maid of honor, and five bride's maids, Misses Edith Penn, Anna Rose Finney, Ethel Nichols, Margarete Finney, and Ann Smallwood, of Jackson. Their dresses were charmingly fashioned with a becoming sweetheart neck line and princess bodice of lace which fitted to points over the hips, forming a lovely yoke from which a graceful skirt of net fell to a demi train length. Each carried at waist line position, a double bouquet of exquisite "Dr. Bennett" flame colored gladioli tied with a white chiffon bow. They wore white pearls, gifts from the bride, and arranged red velvet bows, matching their flowers, in their hair.

The bride's mother, Mrs. R. W. Mullin, chose a handsome formal dress of light blue chiffon and lace. Her corsage was of gardenias.

The groom's mother, Mrs. H. D. Lane, was beautifully attired in a red-ingote costume featuring a pastel hued marquesette evening dress with coat of mauve marquesette. Her corsage was of pink and mauve sweet peas.

Two sisters of the bride attending were Mrs. T. H. Meek, charming in black chiffon with corsage of lilies of the valley; and Mrs. Ben McElwrath, in white silk net with a dinner jacket of red taffeta. Her corsage was of gardenias. The bride, who entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Pat Mullin, was radiant in her wedding gown of chiffon. The bodice featured an attractive high neck line treatment, flattering shoulder width and full long sleeves. At the waist line, the wide band of white satin was studded with pearls. The long flowing lines of the graceful skirt ended in a formal train of exceptional beauty. Her veil of illusion was held in place by white satin ribbon which formed a bow for her charming coiffeur. Delicate orange blossoms also adorned her head dress of satin. The finger tip veil was becomingly arranged and its beauty was further enhanced by a scatter arrangement of tiny white satin bows, while the wedding veil, very graceful and full was of even greater length than the lovely formal train of the gown. She carried orchids and Stepanotis tied with white satin.

The bride is a graduate of Grenada High School and attended the University of Mississippi and Stephens College at Columbia, Mo.

Mr. Lane, a graduate of Grenada High School attended Mississippi State one year. In December he left for Camp Blanding, Fla., with the 114th F. A. National Guard. For several months Corporal Lane has been at Fort Sill, Okla., for special training.

They left for Camp Blanding, Fla. Friday night where Corporal Lane reported for duty on May 13.

Mrs. Lane's going away costume was a chic Spring ensemble in blue with matching accessories. She wore orchids from her bridal flowers.

Mrs. M. E. Yeager enjoyed having all of her children, except Mrs. Pearson, who is in Philadelphia, with her on Sunday, Mother's Day. They were, Mr. George Yeager and Mrs. S. Y. Anderson, who reside in Grenada, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Yeager, of Drew; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yeager, of Lambert, and Mr. Ed Anderson, a grandson, of Mrs. Yeager, also from Lambert.

LADY LIBERTY

A tear is on his cheek,
A song is in his heart,
As he gazes at Lady Liberty,
On the skyline of New York.
He had sailed years before
To countries beyond the sea;
And now he is returning
To home and Liberty.

He had seen the strike of Europe,
The loss of life and limb;
He had seen the soldier march to war,
And what it did to him;
He had seen the greed of Nations,
And had seen them fight in vain
But now he sees a Nation,
Where freedom may always reign.

G. R. NEWS

Thusday morning the last meeting of this school year was held in the auditorium. The meeting was opened by the new president, Mary Lou Cullen, when she read the scripture. After Miss Haynes led a prayer, the G. R. sang the Litany of Thanks. Mary Lou presented to each Senior girl a beautiful white satin book mark with a verse of Scripture on it. To Betty Rule, retiring president, a white Bible was given. The program was on camp life. Louise Avent, Audry Moss, and Sue Rowell gave accounts of Gulf Park G. R. Camp. Betty gave a talk on Rockbrook. The meeting closed with singing Remember.

We think Jean Scott has her eyes on a certain little Junior boy. Can't she be satisfied with Little R?

Sunday night Emma Jean was having a fine time with Benton till their date was properly "stuffed."

You ought to see Billie Guy, Turnip, Tommie, and Polly in Turnip's ultra-modern car. They can be seen almost anywhere on Sunday night.

"Mud Fighter" Cullen better known as Beebe had a dirt fling at Emmett and James Elliott.

Potential Parting: Louise and Johnny signed Counsellor for the defense (Billie Semmes.)

"Poor Keeton."

The rumored make-up between Beebe and a former suitor is merely a rumor.

Johnny Mitchell has such a soothing personality that a certain little girl tells him all her troubles. It must be nice to have a good understanding of human nature.

Little Roger's newest flame is a certain Sally Stone in Coffeeville.

We certainly hope Merritt is going to be back in school soon. We extend our best wishes for a speedy recovery.

This issue of the "Bulldog" is written by Caroline and Mary Lou.

MUSIC RECITAL

The music and vocal students of Miss Donaldson are to give their yearly recital Friday night at 8 o'clock in the high school building. Several of Mrs. Hathorn's pupils will give recitations. The public is cordially invited to attend.

G. H. S. DIRT

Benton's new name is "(censored) Cab."

Every other word that Gracie says is "Scrapper." He must be a superman.

We wonder what is the matter with Brownie and Lavern. We hope it's not a final parting.

If we must say so, Frosh Teddy Revell has good taste. He was seen at the show Friday night with little Eleanor Green. Margarete's little sister who has such pretty brown eyes.

Jackie was with Cliff last Sunday night having an awful good time.

Nellie Joiner was with Eddie last Sunday night. That must be way Nellie is looking forward to the W. H. S. graduation exercises.

WHAT CERTAIN STUDENTS THINK ABOUT BOOKKEEPING

(By One Who Ought to Know)

Emmett: It's the "wordiest" subject in school.

Betty Ann: Everyone in life has a burden. Mine is keeping.

Effie May: It's fun if you like to work. Ed's note: Who likes to work?

Billy Semmes: All the world is so lovely, I have no time for office grinding.

William Henry Townsend: In the Spring a man's fancy turns to love, not bookkeeping.

Sybil Hudson: I just don't see any sense in it.

Majority of students: ditto.

Caroline Whitaker: To me bookkeeping is the same as hemlock was to Socrates.

SEEING is BELIEVING

When you stop your car on our Brake Tester and actually see how your brakes behave, you know without anyone telling you, whether they need attention or not.

Our Brake Tester is like four horizontal scales—each one telling just how much braking energy is applied to its wheel. When we adjust, reline or overhaul your brakes, they are tested and proven on this same Tester, so you know exactly how they will act on the road.

Car owners who have used our brake service are enthusiastic in saying they can feel the difference. It's a mighty sweet sensation, too, to know you can depend on your brakes—any time, under any conditions. Why not bring your brake work to us, and experience it?

With The County Agent

Many farmers are saying that the condition of their cotton crop is well below normal. The cool weather prevalent is causing the cotton to die. Seed that were treated with "Ceresan" have not been affected like the untreated seed. Several farmers of the Graysport Cooperative Gin Area made them a treating machine out of a 50 gallon oil drum. It costs approximately ten cents per acre to treat seed and a good season like we are having it pays several dollars per acre to have the seed treated.

Our County Cooperative and Cold Storage has handled several thousand dollars worth of seed for our farmers this year. Mr. Frank Duncan, manager of the Cooperative, believes that now is the time for our farmers to make their plans to save a big supply of peas, beans, lespedeza and other field seeds this fall for sale. He thinks it is another good "money crop" for our farmers.

Mr. J. R. McRee, of Holcomb, claims that he prevented his cotton from dieing by "barring it off" with a turning plow and "dirting" the cotton before the soil becomes dry.

Headquarters for the seven-county Egg Shipping Association has been moved from Winona to Grenada. Eggs are being candled, graded, packed and shipped each week. Plans have been made to pay the farmers each week for the eggs they brought last week. Six boys and girls have been employed at the Cobb Storage Plant to do the candling, grading and packing.

Mr. Grove Carver, President of the County Farm Bureau, has planned a county wide meeting for May 27 to discuss improvement of our AAA program, a better soil conservation program in the county, and awarding of the prize pure bred Jersey bull to the 4-H Club or vocational student winning the Farm Bureau Membership Contest. The bull was donated to the Farm Bureau by Mr. Geo. F. Kraft at the Rally Day program a few weeks ago.

Farm visits were made to the following farms last week: John Weir, P. H. Youngblood, J. L. Elliott, Kraetzer Cured Lumber Company, H. J. Ray and T. P. Revell.

Don't wait too long

● Don't wait until you are half dead before you call your family physician. His chances are better, and yours, if you call him at the first sign of illness. It will be less expensive for you, too. Often a word of advice, a sensible precaution, will prevent serious complications. Even though you may feel perfectly well, it is good practice to see your physician regularly, at least twice a year. If he finds it necessary to prescribe medical treatment, bring your prescriptions to us. We will fill them promptly and accurately, just as the doctor orders.

METHODISTS PAY OFF DEBT ON NEW BUILDING

Members of the Methodist congregation were made extremely happy last Sunday morning when it was announced that the last penny's debt upon their new Sunday School building had been paid. The amount of the last installment on the original $25,000 debt, contracted almost 13 years ago, was $4,175.23, and a receipt for this amount was proudly exhibited to the congregation by Mr. Ed Underwood, Chairman of the Finance Committee. Mr. H. L. Honeycutt was Chairman of the Special Effort Committee, each of them gives the other credit for raising the money.

May we add our congratulations to our Methodist brethren.
